Santa isn't the only one watching

Whether it's off to grandmother's house we go or it's home for the holidays, Cox Homelife is here to make sure it's the most wonderful time of year. With some of our best products, Santa won't be the only one watching, and you'll be on the nice list for keeping your house safe and secure.

1. Elf on the shelf 2.0. Holly the Elf may do a top-notch job of reporting the naughty and nice to Santa, but give yourself real peace of mind by installing HD Cameras inside and outside your home. These cameras can see real time video of your home on the Homelife app and catch anyone who deserves coal this year. You can also choose to have Continuous Video Recording (CVR) which captures recordings from up to two cameras to the cloud for 10 continuous days.
2. Deck the halls with lights on timers. Many of the electronics in your home can be put on timers. Need those Christmas lights to turn on or off when you're out and about? Wish you could come home from a long day of holiday shopping to a fully lit, cozy home? Homelife makes it easy. Try installing Smart LED Light Bulbs and Smart Plugs, offered through Homelife, to make your house run as efficiently as Santa's workshop.
3. Let it go! Let it go! Let it go! Your holiday to-do list may be long, but one thing you can let go of is your house key. Who needs to stand in the snow searching for a house key at the bottom of their purse? Not you! Install a Smart Door Lock, if you don't already have one, and let go of one less stressor. If you're out of town visiting relatives, you can create a passcode, so they can water your plants or check on your home. Even better, if someone forgets to lock the door, you can remotely lock it with the Homelife app.

Don't have the products mentioned above? Check out the Homelife app or use Amplifi points to make your house merry and stuff stockings last minute. For more information, contact your local Professional Security Consultant or call the Homelife COE at 1-866-961-0431.
